

How Common Purpose has corrupted the British media

On the surface, Common Purpose is an educational charity that does leadership and networking development training. In reality, Common Purpose is a corrupt, subversive and sinister organisation which seeks to destroy the national identity of Britain, to destroy democracy in Britain and introduce the EU media State into Britain.

Most people have never heard of Common Purpose which is strange because Common Purpose has corruptly abused millions of pounds of taxpayers' money.

Common Purpose is a change agent being used by Fabian New Labour to implement its hidden Communitarian agenda. It is a 'Trojan Horse' fifth column operation and part of the mechanism being used by Brussels to undermine and soften up British society to pave the way for the take-over of Britain by the European Union (EUSSR).

One way that Common Purpose are doing this is by infiltrating their 'graduates' into positions of power in the media, national and local government, the media and the judiciary. Common Purpose needs these 'graduates' to run the bureaucracy of the New Dictatorship of what they call the 'post-democratic' society. All Common Purpose 'graduates' have been corrupted and are totally untrustworthy.

British governments should govern – not dictate to and betray their own citizens.

One of the main targets of Common Purpose is the media because Fabian New Labour and Brussels need to control propaganda to the masses. Many BBC, ITV and other media personnel are members of the Common Purpose Revolution by Stealth operation. In fact, the BBC and other media outlets have become the propaganda arms of New Labour's mealy-mouthed and politically correct Ministry of Half-Truth.

The Common Purpose commissars and apparatchiks who have infiltrated the BBC have destroyed the reputation that the BBC had amongst many for independent and accurate reporting of news and current affairs. And this deceit has all been funded by the BBC Licence Tax payer.

And why are people in the media so terrified of discussing Common Purpose?

What YOU can do to help stop Common Purpose corruption:

I urge you to do a search on the Web for 'Common Purpose' to find out more about it and then go to the discussion forum of your choice and discuss Common Purpose. Spread the word about this corrupt Common Purpose organisation before it is too late.
